FROM FRANKFORT

Whittaker Held as One of Gov. Goebel's Murderer.

Several Important Bills Passed This Week—Reward Bill Signed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—Harlan Whittaker, of Butler county, charged with the assassination of Gov. Goebel, was held to answer without bail at his preliminary trial at Frankfort Tuesday. Lee Jones, a Whitley county suspect, was held in $500 bail. Whittaker was represented in court by attorneys, but made no defense, the witnesses of the prosecution not even being cross-examined. The Commonwealth only introduced enough testimony to hold the prisoner, and was careful not to expose any of the clues by which it expects to locate the leaders in the conspiracy.

The Goebel reward Bill was signed by Gov. Beckham yesterday. The house by a strict party vote refused a second reading to the bill to repeal the Goebel election law. The Senate passed a bill making from the four Circuit Judges in Louisville and placing in the hands of Judge Barker the appointment of the Bond Recorder in Louisville. The Bond Chord Railroad Bill was passed in the House yesterday.

Will Not Hear Applicants.

Gov. Beckham will be so busy with legislative matters until the adjournment next Tuesday that he has decided not to give audience to any more applicants for office until after that time. He has decided, for that reason, not to make any appointments until after the adjournment of the legislature, when he will have more time to consider the claims of the candidates.

Pardon For a Boy.

Gov. Beckham to-day pardoned John Hourihan, of Paducah, who is just nine years old. He was held to the grand jury for housebreaking. Evil influences caused him to commit the act, and the pardon was urged by many good citizens.

Contest Cost $15,000.

The Goebel-Taylor and Beckham-Marshall Contest Boards have finished their work. The total cost was about $15,000, which is much less than was expected. The Republican witness claims amount to $9,400, and the Democratic witness claims amount to $1,700. This expense of over $11,000 will have to be paid by Messrs. Taylor and Marshall. The State's part of the costs is $2,900.

FILED THE LOCKS.

But Jailer Prevented Prisoners From Making Their Escape.

Will Morrison, formerly of Pembroke, who killed young Coffman, of Slaughter'sville, at Springfield a few weeks ago, was prevented from escaping from the Nashville jail Tuesday by the timely discovery by the jailer that two locks on a window grating had been lost. Morrison's trial was continued at Springfield until the June term and he had been taken back to Nashville for safe keeping. He, and a man named O'Connor, who is under sentence of fourteen years for murder, were in the same cell.

DIED SUNDAY.

After Long Illness Mrs. Wilson Departs This Life.

Mrs. Eliza Wilson, wife of Capt. Robert A. Wilson, of the Oak Grove neighborhood, but over the Tennessee line, died Sunday, after a long illness. She was a member of the Baptist church, and had taken a prominent part in all the church work. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, at the family burying ground, after services at the home by her pastor, Rev. C. A. Hall, of Lafayette.

SOFTENING OF BRAIN

Causes Death of a Prominent Sinking Fork Farmer.

Mr. James Owen, a well known farmer of the Sinking Fork neighborhood, died Tuesday night, aged 65 years. He was attacked with the grip about two years ago and never fully recovered. Some time ago softening of the brain set up, causing his death as above stated. He leaves a widow and five children, four sons and a daughter.

The burial took place at the Owen burying ground near the Brick church Wednesday.

GRAND LARCNY

Charged Against Several Colored Men Living Near Longview.

For some time farmers of the Longview neighborhood have been missing tobacco from their barns and when an investigation was made a warrant was sworn out against Henry Slaughter, Buster Radford, Wiley Johnson and others, all colored, charging them with grand larceny. Four of the accused were put in jail this week and the grand jury will at once investigate the matter. A straw tick had been opened and used for storing the stolen weed and when a load accumulated it was taken to market and sold.

SHOT IN THE LEG.

Fell Out While Attending a Festival Saturday Night.

During the progress of a colored festival last Saturday night at the home of Wins Tandy's, near Pee Dee, Mack Tandy and another negro, whose name we were unable to learn, became involved in a row, and the result was that Tandy was shot in the leg. The wound is not considered a very dangerous one. The man who did the shooting left the gathering at once and had not been arrested at last accounts.

Broke an Arm.

The three-year-old son of Mrs. Susie McCord, of Sinking Fork, fell from a porch Wednesday afternoon while playing and broke his arm. Dr. L. J. Harris set the fractured limb and the little fellow is now getting along quite well.

DENTISTS TOUCHED.

A Smooth Stranger Who Steals Gold Fillings.

Two Local Dentists Robbed to the Extent of $115—Thief Passes On.

Two well-known dentists were robbed Monday of their supply of gold used for filling teeth. On Tuesday Chief Matthews was notified to be on the lookout for a thief headed this way, who made a specialty of robbing dentists. The notice came too late. Investigation showed that the man had come and gone.

Early Monday morning a well dressed young man called at Dr. E. H. Barker's and asked the office boy when the doctor would be in.

Being told that it would not be long he sat down to wait and when the boy left the room the stranger went through the drawers, took gold worth $50 and a $25 plate and was gone when the doctor came in.

He then went to Dr. E. H. Fruit's office and worked the same game, getting $40 worth of gold. As he was leaving he met the office boy and told him he didn't have time to wait for the doctor.

At Hotel Latham the young man registered as T. V. Wilson, St. Louis, and left without paying his bill. He bought a ticket to Clarksville. He shipped some baggage to St. Louis and the authorities there were notified to try to secure it.

ROBBER ROSS'

Seven-Year Sentence Has Been Reduced to Three.

W. W. Ross, who was arrested in this city two years ago by Nashville detectives, assisted by the local police, and later received a seven-year sentence for larceny, has secured a commutation of sentence to three years. Ross robbed a Nashville jeweler of a diamond ring by exchanging packages, and immediately came to this city, where he was arrested as soon as he stepped from the train. He was not convicted for nearly a year and has only served one year in the pen. Ross was from Chicago.

Floored The Elder.

LUNATIC MURDERER ESCAPED

But Was Recaptured Near Kelly Few Hours Afterward.

Cicero Barnett, col., who brutally murdered his father with a hatchet at Owensboro a few months ago, escaped from the asylum here Saturday night, but was captured by the attendants Sunday, near Kelly. He was making his way to his old home when taken into custody.

Barnett effected his escape by prizing apart the bars of his window and letting himself down to the ground by means of a rope made of his bed clothing.

The negro, shortly after the murder, was adjudged of unsound mind, and brought to the Asylum.

LOSS OF LIFE.

Almost Certain That 42 Were Killed in the Mine Accident.

Hinton, W. Va., March 7.—It is almost a certainty that forty-two lives were lost in yesterday's explosion at the Red Ash mines.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, but is supposed to have been caused by a miner entering an unused room in the mines with an open lamp. There were forty-two men in the mine at the time of the explosion, and if it had occurred twenty minutes later the loss of life would have reached 150 or more.

ACCURACY IN TIME.

The Smallest Trifles Taken Into Account in Scientific Calculations.

"I read an interesting article the other day on how standard time was secured," said a New Orleans college professor, "but it omitted one important point which was of a kind to me by a member of the astronomical staff last time I was in Washington. The time observations at the different observatories, by which the standard is established, are taken by noting the exact instant at which some certain designated star crosses a line on the object glass of the telescope. The instrument is pointed at the star, and as soon as it touches the line the observer presses a button that makes a mark on the slowly revolving cylinder. The cylinder is divided into spaces corresponding to minutes and seconds, and the mark consequently indicates the precise fraction of time at which the star arrived at a given place in the sky. How that is checked against other observations, taken at different localities in exactly the same way, and forms the basis of a calculation by which the chronometers of the world are adjusted, is something I won't attempt to explain.

"The point I had in mind is this: The pressing of the button and making the mark on the cylinder is an essentially instantaneous, but really it isn't. Between the instant that the observer sees the star touch the line and the instant that his finger pushes the button, is a brief lapse of time consumed by the transit of the impulse from his brain to his hand. To the non-scientific man it would seem absurd to take account of such infinitesimal intervals, but in delicate calculations they are highly important. Not long ago an instrument was built that records the exact speed of brain impulse in different people. The subject is told to press a button as soon as a figure appears on a dial, and it takes the average person nearly half a second to do so. That interval, required by the nerves to do their telegraphing from the eye to the finger tip, is now taken into consideration in making the computations for standard time. By failing to allow for it in the past, the chronometers have been in error from five to ten seconds a year. The detail is curiously impressive because it shows that extraordinary pains are taken to secure absolute accuracy."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

TALKING WITH AN ARMENIAN.

His Russian Translated Into German by Telephone.

"Zdravstvuyte, Sodor! Govo-reteyeb lee vuh po-rooskee?" (Good-morning, sir! Do you speak Russian?)

A well-dressed stranger thus greeted me in my office. But though the salutation was Russian, the accent was not, and the dress and type had in them something of the Orient.

Now, my Russian, outside of the most absolutely necessary phrases for traveling, consists of the question: "Is there anyone here who speaks English, German or French?" to which I replied: "Ya ponemayoo nemovno, no govoreet ne komuyoo po-rooskee," which being interpreted means: "I understand Russian a little, but do not speak it." I then learned that my caller was an Armenian, and that he evidently meant business of some kind, but just what was the puzzle. French and German were all Greek to him.

After grinning at each other a minute or so to remember that I had an acquaintance in the technical high school who, being a Bulgarian, could manage to understand and be understood by Russians (the language being about as similar as Spanish and Portuguese or Italian); and while his German, like that of most Slaves, including the Bohemian, had a "burr" on it which casts Scotch-English into the shade, it was good enough for all practical purposes. So I motioned to my visitor to wait a little, and had the "polytechnian" called up on the "phone. It took, luckily, but a few minutes to have the young Bogdanoff (Theodore, son, we would make it) brought up to the instrument, and thence on to it was pretty plain sailing. The Armenian informed the Bulgarian in Russian what he wanted; the Bulgarian told me in German, and so on, to the end of the chapter, which was a pleasant one—American Machinery.

A BAD INVESTMENT.

Man Looking for Position Tried Bribing the Proprietor.

"Morning! Give 'em in?" inquired a confident-looking stranger of a weak young man who stood weighing in sugar in a grocery's shop.

"Yes, sir."

"You're advertising for a manager, I believe?"

"Yes, we are."

"Present manager about anywhere?"

"Well, I'm manager at present, sir."

"Ah! That's you. Now, what sort of chap may the gov'nor be? Old?"

"About my own age."

"I had any trouble with him at all?"

"Well, I can't say I have."

"Close-fisted screw, ain't he?"

"Some people might call him so."

"Ah, well! If I got on here and he tries any of his nonsense on me, he'll get his head in the sugar-bin. Just give him my name, will you?"

"Well, if you are applying for the situation, I'm taking on the new man."

"By Jove! You are? Now, I should like to get this shop. Think you could come to an immediate decision if I made it worth your while?"

"Shouldn't wonder."

"Ah! Now I suppose we may consider it settled, eh? as he slipped a half-sovereign into the meek young man's hand."

"Yes," said that individual, as he quietly pocketed the coin. "Somehow I don't think you'd suit."

"Thunder! Not suit; why, how's that?"

"Well, you see, I happen to be the gov'nor myself!"—London Tit-Bits.

BREAD MADE BY MACHINERY.

Ingenuous Device Lately Invented for Extensive Bakers.

That tedious process which every housewife, as well as every baker, dreads—kneading bread—is now done by a machine.

It has been evolved from the fertile brain of Peter Bryce, of Indianapolis. This apparently simple combination of cogs and wheels, pans and linked bakers, can do the work of eight expert bakers, and do better work.

The object of its construction, primarily, is to knead and shape the dough into loaves, and the lightning rapidity with which the sticky, shapeless mass is transformed into smooth, round loaves is marvellous.

Sixty loaves a minutes—12,000 a day—is its record, and its inventor claims that the end is not yet.

Mishapen lumps of dough are placed in pans fastened on an endless linked chain, which dumps their contents into the maw of the contrivance. They are quickly sucked between rapidly moving rollers, becoming smaller and smaller until, nearly perfect, they are thrown, one at a time, into a canvas cradle, which deftly rolls them and in turn dumps them into pans, whence they are taken to the oven to be baked.

Only two of these machines are in existence—one is in Indianapolis and the other is in Chicago—but it is expected that a small machine for household use will soon be made.—N. Y. Journal.

The Title of Dowager.

The title of "dowager" seems likely in the near future to become obsolete. Queen Victoria's eldest daughter was the first to resign the title of dowager, and is now known by virtue of a royal decree as "Empress Frederick."

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland has been much disturbed by the idea of her mother being looked upon as an old lady, and has caused to be published a decree commanding that henceforth the ex-regent is to be styled not "queen dowager," but "Queen Emma of the Netherlands."

Even the old empress of China, wishing to be in the fashion, has consented to this reform.

Outlander.

"Outlander" isn't a new word. One Anthony Ward wrote as follows as far back as 1654: "Coffee was this year publicly sold at or near the Angel, within the east gate of Oxen, as well chocolate by an outlander of Jew."

Everyone who owns a dog boasts that his dog knows more than most grown persons.—Aitchon Globe.

at St. Louis in 1896. His whole has proved very satisfactory to his party in Wisconsin. Mr. Wiswell is a Wisconsin man by birth and is now 48 years old. Reared on a farm, he grew to a strong and healthy manhood, and gained a good school education. After leaving the tinner's and plumber's trades he established himself in business as a hardware merchant, continuing it for ten years. In 1886 he was elected sheriff of Walworth county, and during his term founded the state organization of sheriffs. In March, 1889, President Harrison appointed him United States marshal for the eastern district of Wisconsin, and he held the office until 1892. During this term of office he effected the breaking up of several notorious and dangerous gangs of robbers and counterfeiters, especially the "brush hunters" gang in the neighborhood of Harley. Since 1893 he has been secretary and general manager of the Fraternal Alliance Insurance company. He is a member of several of the most prominent Milwaukee clubs.

BARD CHOSEN SENATOR.

California Legislature Elects a Well-Known Business Man to Succeed Stephen M. White.

Thomas B. Bard, who has been elected by the California legislature to succeed Stephen M. White in the United States senate, was born in Chambersburg, Franklin county, Pa., December 8, 1841, the son of Robert M. Bard, a prominent lawyer of that place. When the civil war broke out he was in Hagerstown, Md., which was on the border between the north and south, and in constant danger from raids. Although scarcely of age, young Bard enlisted in the federal army, taking part in the battle of Antietam and other engagements. His ability was recognized by Col. Thomas A. Scott, assistant secretary of war, who took him into his command, where he rendered valuable service in the transportation department. In 1865 Col. Scott induced him to go to California to take charge of his (Scott's) large interests in Ventura and adjoining counties. He looked after a tract of more than 27,000 acres of land until Col. Scott's death, when he became administrator of the estate and sold out the property. He gave a bond of $1,500,000 for faithful performance of this task.

Mr. Bard is largely interested in the petroleum industry of southern California and is one of the chief executives of the Union Oil company. He is president of the Bank of Blueume and organizer and director of the Bimi and Lias Pecos Land and Water companies.

FOUND A GOLD MIND.

IT WAS IN HIS POULTRY YARD.

Had in Iowa Uses a Compound that Takes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. Secret of His Success.

People in the neighborhood of Creston, Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition and furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Poultry Mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent. or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound. It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it will do, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for a sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It is directly on the crop and gizzard and is a thoroughly scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund your purchase money if your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, be behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition, beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. The child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting. Depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant condition is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and pleasant treatment of Swamp-Root is soon resorted to. MARRIED IN NASHVILLE.

Miss Lizzie Gaither and Dr. Robt. W. Greene.

Miss Elizabeth Gant Gaither and Robert William Greene were quietly married at 9 o'clock Wednesday by Dr. J. O. Rust in his study at the Edgely Baptist Church, Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Gaither and her daughter went west over to Nashville Wednesday morning, ostensibly on a shopping expedition and to visit Mr. and Mrs. James M. Howe. Mr. Greene arrived at 8:15 and met the bride at the Howe residence, on Vine street. The young couple, accompanied by Mrs. Gaither, Mr. and Mrs. Howe, Miss Jessie Fay Howe and Miss Evelyn Polk, entered carriages and drove immediately to East Nashville and were soon united by Dr. Rust.

The bride is one of Hopkinsville's most charming young ladies, a daughter of Mr. Nat Gaither. Mr. Greene is book-keeper for Gaither & West and is a young business man of the finest capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Greene went to Chattanooga and from there to Southern points on a bridal tour.

Women, Remember This Fact

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are communicating with a woman whose experience in treating women's ills is greater than that of any living person—male or female. A woman can talk freely to a woman when it is revolving to relate her private troubles to a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they should have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examination of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman, whose knowledge and actual experience is unequalled.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to freely communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass.

All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only.

This is a positive fact—not a mere statement. It is testified to by the mayor and postmaster of Lynn and other whose letters, all in a little book, Mrs. Pinkham has published.

Write for a copy, it is free. Thus has been established the eternal connection between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken and has induced more than half a million sufferers to write her for advice during the last few months.

Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from it is more than possible that she has selected the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Here are some of the cases we refer to:

Mrs. Pinkham Helps Two Women Through Change of Life and Cures Another of Sterility. Read Their Letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I feel that it is owing to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I am alive to-day. It has taken me out of a sick bed where I had lain for six weeks with a very bad case of nervousness. My trouble was change of life, had frequent hemorrhages. Your medicine helped me to get on my feet, and am now able to do all my work, and headache is unknown. I am forty-three years of age and, I say, 'God bless you.'—Mrs. ASHLEY PORTER, Casco, Me., Oct. 1900.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—When I first wrote to you I was in a very bad condition. I was passing through the change of life, and the doctors said I had better give up. I had suffered for nine years. Doctors failed to do me any good. Since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my health has improved very much. I will gladly recommend your medicine to others and am sure that it will prove a great blessing to them as it has to me.—Mrs. G. H. JUNE, 202 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was an ardent desire to have a child. I had been married three years and could not become a mother, so wrote to you to find out the reason. After following your kind advice and taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I have the mother of a beautiful baby boy, the joy of our home. He is a fat, healthy baby, thanks to your medicine.—Mrs. MINA FISKE, Roseton, N. Y.

Two More Women Who Acknowledge the Help They Have Received from Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—The doctor says I have congestion of the womb, and cannot help me. There is aching in the right side of abdomen, back and back. If you can do me any good, please write.—Mrs. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 1900.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I followed your instructions, and now I want every woman suffering from female trouble to know how good your advice and medicine is. The doctor advised an operation. I could not bear to think of that, so followed your advice. I got better right off. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I also took your Live Sanative Wash; also took your Live Pills, and am cured.—Mrs. NINA CHASE, Fulton, N. Y., December 1900.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Have been suffering for over a year and had three doctors. The time of menstruation is very terrible pains in back and ovaries. I have headache nearly every day. I feel tired all the time. The doctor said my womb was out of place. Would be glad if you could help me.—Mrs. CARL VOSS, Nac City, Iowa, August 1, 1901.

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the good your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I did everything you told me to do, and used only your bottles, and feel better in every respect.—Mrs. CARL VOSS, Nac City, Iowa, March 23, 1900.

Mrs. Pinkham Has Fifty Thousand Such Letters as Above on File at Her Office—She Makes no Statements She Cannot Prove.

The schools at Harbourside, Ky., have closed because of the existence of smallpox in that town. The health officers have forbidden public assemblies.

WHERE WE RESTORE THE BLIND And cure nearly all diseases of the Eyes and restore impaired vision Without any Painful Operation

OUR LETTERS OF CREDIT. Gentlemen: I had become so blind from paralysis of the optic nerves that I could no longer transact my business without your glasses, and could no longer read or write without them. Under your patient treatment and with the aid of your "X Rays" Glasses I am fully restored to sight again. No operations of any kind were performed upon me. Yours respectfully, J. L. MANSFIELD.

Of Mansfield & Jeffries, Stock Brokers at Burton's Stockyards. Gentlemen: I brought my wife to your institute on Monday last. She is 71 years old, has been paralyzed for 8 years and stone blind over 5 years. In two treatments, less than 24 hours, you restored her sight which is much more than you promised. Her case was considered by others hopeless on account of her feeble health and advanced age. Respectfully, JOHN KAUFMAN, Bunchels, Ky.

Gentlemen: Having been a sufferer from what is popularly known as granulated eyelids for the past twenty years and having undergone treatment at the hands of Louisville's most popular oculist, without benefit, it is a pleasure to me to say that under your "X Rays" treatments I have steadily improved from the very first application until the present (less than 3 weeks), and my eyes do not now cause me any trouble and so far as I can tell, I am well, and I hope permanently so. No painful operation was performed on me.

Besides the efficiency of your "X Rays" treatment, I do not but just and proper to speak of the fairness and uprightness of your dealings with me financially and otherwise.—LEWIS F. DRANE, Of E. Drane & Son, Eminence, Ky.

Gentlemen: I applied as your institute for relief from blindness of over four years' duration, on one day, and receiving two "X Rays" treatments was made to see and distinguish objects the next—within less than 24 hours from the time of my first treatment. On the sixth day I was given permission to return home. I am confident I shall see permanently. I can not speak too highly of either your skill or of your faithful and fair treatment, financially and otherwise. Yours respectfully, E. C. NELSON, Of E. C. Nelson & Co., Drug Manufacturers at Frankfort, Ky.

Gentlemen: I was under the charge of Louisville's most popular oculist for 6 months and BLIND from what was termed RETINITIS PIGMENTOSA (which is regarded an incurable disease). I am told; at that time hemorrhages and exudation of blood vessels could do nothing for me. I was under the charge of the most skillful and most distinguished oculist in the city for a while over a year; after which time I remained the same as in the beginning. BLIND. In giving up my eyes as "hopeless" and before his parting words were: "John, I am sorry I can't do anything for you; go home and pray that some one may discover something to help you. That was about 3 years ago. I followed his injunction to pray and I did pray, and I prayed in faith. Hearing of the wonderful work of your "X Rays" Treatment I put myself in your charge on Dec 18, 1899. I was at that time compelled to find my way along the streets with a cane as my other eye was blind—frequently ran into people and into the fences and stepped into the puddles in the walks. Today, after two months of your "X Rays" Treatments at the hands of your Medical Director, I can walk the streets as good as anyone without any assistance, even that of a cane; eye see the trees and houses it seems to me as good as I ever could, and people walking hit a square away. I expect to get back to my work in the lumber business within the next 30 days, my improvement, God willing, continuing under your charge. Yours respectfully, JOHN BLAKE, 717 12th St., Louisville, Ky.

A Pathetic Incident.

One of those peculiarly pathetic incidents that border closely upon the dramatic occurred at the Louisville and Indianapolis Optical Company's Eye Institute in this city yesterday, which is described by an eye-witness in the following lines: "One of those good old German grandmothers, who had passed her three score and ten, and whose added years had been crowned with the sweetest disposition than only afflictions sometimes give, had just the day before applied for relief from total blindness of over five years' duration; and although paralyzed for the past eight years and by all others regarded as hopelessly blind, an attempt was to be made to restore her vision painlessly at this second visit. Accompanying her was her son, a six-foot, great, sturdy type of the flaxen, curly-haired, open faced and honest headed German, whose tenderness, love and sympathy for his aged mother reached sublimity itself—along with his wife and little son, the prototype of his father. The grandmother, having had the "X Rays" applied to her eyes, was now ready for the final step to make her see. The eagerness and earnestness with which she—Joke—for that was her son's name—watched every motion and every indication that might occur of suffering, was almost painful in its intensity for the minute or two he was compelled to observe in suspense, the progress of events.

"After a brief period, with the eyelids closed and her pale face free from all trace of suffering, she was raised, from her reclining position and commanded to slowly—slowly, open her eyes. In the meantime her son had knelt at her feet, her withered hand clasped in his great rough palms, with her little grandson standing by her side. In a moment or so her free hand left its place, trembling moved forward until it rested on her forehead, and—"O, Jake, I see you!" she exclaimed, while the big tears trickled down his swarthy cheek and fell upon the hand he held in his—"and this"—with another movement of her hand, which now rested on his head of her grandson—"is little Jakey, what was playing tricks on me when I could not see to catch him. O, you young rascal. I can see to catch you now." Meantime big Jake, who had risen to his feet, smiling, through his tears, exclaimed: "Ach Gott! Mutter I was so happy to give you back your eyesight again; you gave mine first to me!"—Louisville Dispatch
